

Oak Cemetery: A Forgotten Place

A documentary film examining the history of the African American cemetery in Fayetteville, Arkansas, highlighting the struggles facing the hallowed ground where those who fought for equality rest.

Special Screening in October

A Tiffany King and John Cooper Film

Presented by the Lemke Department of Journalism at the University of Arkansas

